36TH ANNUAL HAZARDOUS MATERIALS
MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE

VIRTUAL SEPTEMBER 27—OCTOBER 1

The North American Hazardous Material Management Association (NAHMMA) is a professional organization dedicated to pollution prevention and reduction of hazardous materials entering municipal waste streams from households and small businesses.

The annual Hazardous Materials Management Conference is the year's largest gathering of HHW industry professionals nationwide. Our annual conference is a critical networking opportunity bringing together hazardous waste professionals, buyers, and industry leaders from municipal collection programs from throughout the U.S. Join us for a great few days of cutting-edge information, best practices, and the latest in the world of HHW management practices!

We're virtual again this year, so there's no need to jump on a plane or book a hotel. Conference attendees, sponsors, and speakers will experience the latest in HHW industry updates, program achievements, and best practices via our easily accessible, NAHMMA-branded mobile app and event website.

WHO'S GOING TO BE THERE?

Folks like yourself in the HHW industry including: city, county, state and federal government officials; environmental consulting firms and non-profit organizations; waste management, recycling industries and manufacturing; educators and educational institutions; and the NAHMMA membership drawing from 11 chapters nationwide!

WHY SPONSOR OUR EVENT?

Sponsors will be identified through the NAHMMA website, event app, and social media channels; and given the opportunity to share information about services during the program. We invite you to join us for the conference activities and especially encourage your participation at our Vendor Reception and networking event.
